Good day,

As mentioned in the briefing session, kindly be advised that, this is a 'turnkey project' (Main Contractor collaborating with Consultants) and therefore, there is no BOQ provided with the RFP Document/Tender advertisement document, but a pricing schedule to be completed by the Main Contractor and Consultants for all three stations. As a bidder, you will be required to craft the bill of quantities with the assistance of the Consultants you will be joining forces with, when responding to the tender requirements.

Best Regards,

Okay, is it possible to visit the site, I am aware there was a briefing session but I was not aware there would be no drawings, we just need to take a couple of measurements for price estimate purposes.

Kind Regards

Good day,

Kindly be advised that, the Pricing Schedule and Tender Form C are the only documents to be utilized for your financial response or price offer; that are embedded with the RFP Document.

As mentioned in the briefing session, this is a 'turnkey project' (Main Contractor collaborating with Consultants) and therefore, there is no BOQ provided with the RFP Document/Tender advertisement document, but a pricing schedule to be completed by the Main Contractor and Consultants.

Also, kindly take note that, there is no excel spreadsheet - PRASA requires that you complete the pricing schedule furnished by hand, using a black ink pen.
